Detailed Report

Holi is the festival that ignites the spirit of cheerfulness and brings us back to cherished childhood memories. The festival that circulates the colours of joy and incites us to connect with our loved ones. We at Lloyd Institute celebrated our campus's most awaited and happy festival. While the teachers, staff, faculty, and other members immersed themselves in the heartiest celebrations, for many, it was a chance to fix broken bonds, rejoice in the arrival of spring, share waves of laughter, and let their inner child out. From sharing foods and beverages and music to the grooving, Lloyd Institute unveiled the real Holi fun we didn't know we were missing.

The sheer act of applying Gulaal to each other signifies the value of human touch, the effect of colours, and the sentiment of love for one another. The day was unmasked by a wholesome get-together at Lloyd's spacious campus, followed by the distribution of sweets and snacks, exchanges of hugs, and collectively joining hands to instil hues of success in our student's lives. Sharing the same lineage of deities, the entire team at Lloyd graciously prayed for everyone's good health, luck, and unbridled growth while marking the festivities in full fervour. Lloyd Institute aims to embed the same unparalleled, colourful smiles in the careers of our ever-evolving students.

Learning Outcome

- Students had a deeper understanding and appreciation of Indian cultural traditions and festivals, enhancing their cultural awareness and sensitivity.
- Participating in the celebration helped students improve their social skills by interacting with peers, faculty, and staff in a relaxed and informal setting.
- Students gained hands-on experience in event planning and management, including organizing activities, coordinating with different departments, and ensuring a successful celebration.
- The celebration strengthened the sense of community within the school, fostering a more inclusive and supportive environment for all members.
